

Special health examinations for students handling organic solvents and specified chemical substances

Date & Time	October 17 (Mon.), 18 (Tue.), 24 (Mon.) to 27 (Thu.), and 31 (Mon.); November 1 (Tue.), 2 (Wed.), 4 (Fri.), and 7 (Mon.) to 10 (Thu.) Reception hours: 9:30 - 10:30 a.m. (punctual) (Please check our web reservation system for appointment hours)
Location	Tohoku University Student Health Care Center (Kawauchi-Kita Campus)
target group	Students who work with organic solvents and specified chemical substances, and students who plan to work with them within the next 6 months (Undergraduate students, graduate students, and non-traditional students) Students who have not used and do not plan to use the substances do not need to be examined.
checkup items	①neurological examination . . . All subjects ②Blood test (by blood sampling) . . . All subjects ③dental checkup . . . subject (of a medical examination)
How to see a doctor	Appointments are by appointment only; advance reservations are required through the web-based appointment system. Please refer to the Appendix for information on how to make an appointment. Appointment period: October 7 (Fri.) - 14 (Fri.) * Appointments outside this period are not available.
what to bring	①Questionnaire distributed by each department (Table: Medical Questionnaire Back: Test Results) Please be sure to fill out the medical questionnaire and bring it with you. Those who have not completed the form will not be allowed to take the ②student card

【Notes.】

★Unlike the Special Health Examination for Radiation Handling Students, this medical checkup is not required by law for students.

If you anticipate any health problems (e.g., feeling sick, numbness at the site of blood collection, etc.) as a result of the blood collection, the risks are considered to outweigh the benefits of the medical checkup. In such cases, we would like to inform you that you may choose not to undergo this medical checkup. If you are at a loss to make a decision, the Center will make a decision on the day of the checkup, so please see the doctor.

(No changes have been made to the recommendation that students who handle organic solvents and specified chemical substances attend this medical examination)

★If you wish to request reasonable accommodation for your medical checkup, please contact us at the following address without making a web appointment.

(Health checkup period cannot be changed.)

e-mail : hairyo-kenshin@grp.tohoku.ac.jp